A top-down photograph of four woven plates and a glass on a wooden table. The plates are arranged in a square pattern: one square plate at the top left, one round plate at the top right, one round plate at the bottom left, and one round plate at the bottom right. The round plates are nested, with a smaller one inside a larger one. All plates have a white center with a blue and brown woven border. A dark blue glass with a faceted pattern is placed diagonally between the top-left square plate and the bottom-left round plate. The wooden table has a horizontal grain.
